Ski trains could pull in before New Year's

Sunday River plans 62 round trip Portland-Bethel runs this season--if zoning hurdles in Portland can be cleared.

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Look for ski trains to begin rolling into Bethel by Christmas week.

At a press conference scheduled for 2 p.m. today (Wednesday), in Portland, Sunday River Ski Resort is expected to announce a regularly scheduled ski train service between that city and Bethel.

The train, which can carry nearly 450 passengers, is scheduled to make 62 daily round-trip runs this season--coming up on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, as well as every day during the Christmas and school vacation weeks.

Plans for the ski train announcement hit an unexpected snag late Monday, when the Portland city manager said the parking plan for the service would have to be reviewed by the city Zoning Board.

Sunday River officials have said they are on an extremely tight timeline if the service is to roll this season, but Portland City Manager Robert Ganley, reportedly said the city didn't want to spend money and staff time on a project that, from Portland's perspective, "would be just a bunch of skiers going to a train station to park."

But on Tuesday Sunday River President Les Otten met with Portland officials, and by The Citizen's press time yesterday afternoon skiway spokesman Skip King said he was "optimistic" that the regulatory tracks would be cleared for the ski train.

If that's the case, and other unforeseen problems don't derail the project, the ski train's inaugural run will be on the day after Christmas.

To make the long discussed idea of train service for skiers a reality, Sunday River recently purchased nine cars from the Indiana Railroad and eight buses (to shuttle skiers from Bethel to the mountain) from Detroit.

The train engines and their crews will be on hire from the St. Lawrence and Atlantic Railroad, which also owns the tracks over which the train will run.

The nine cars making up the train range from fairly contemporary 1950s commuter railroad cars, to a classic 1917 club car, "The Good Cheer."

Two of the cars, built in the 1930s, are linked to form a 170-foot long double unit--a unit that once made regular ski train runs between Chicago and Denver.

"It will be a vacation for a day," said Sunday River president Les Otten. In addition to not having to deal with their automobiles (or Route 26), train passengers can enjoy a chance to hang-out, eat, meet people, play cards, watch ski films and generally relax before and after hitting the slopes.

There are also some practical advantages to the train, especially in weather that's bad for driving but great for skiing. "A foot of new snow isn't going to stop the train," Otten said.

Snow or shine, the ski train will board the train in the morning near Route 295, five minutes from Monument Square, then settle in for a two-hour run to Bethel.

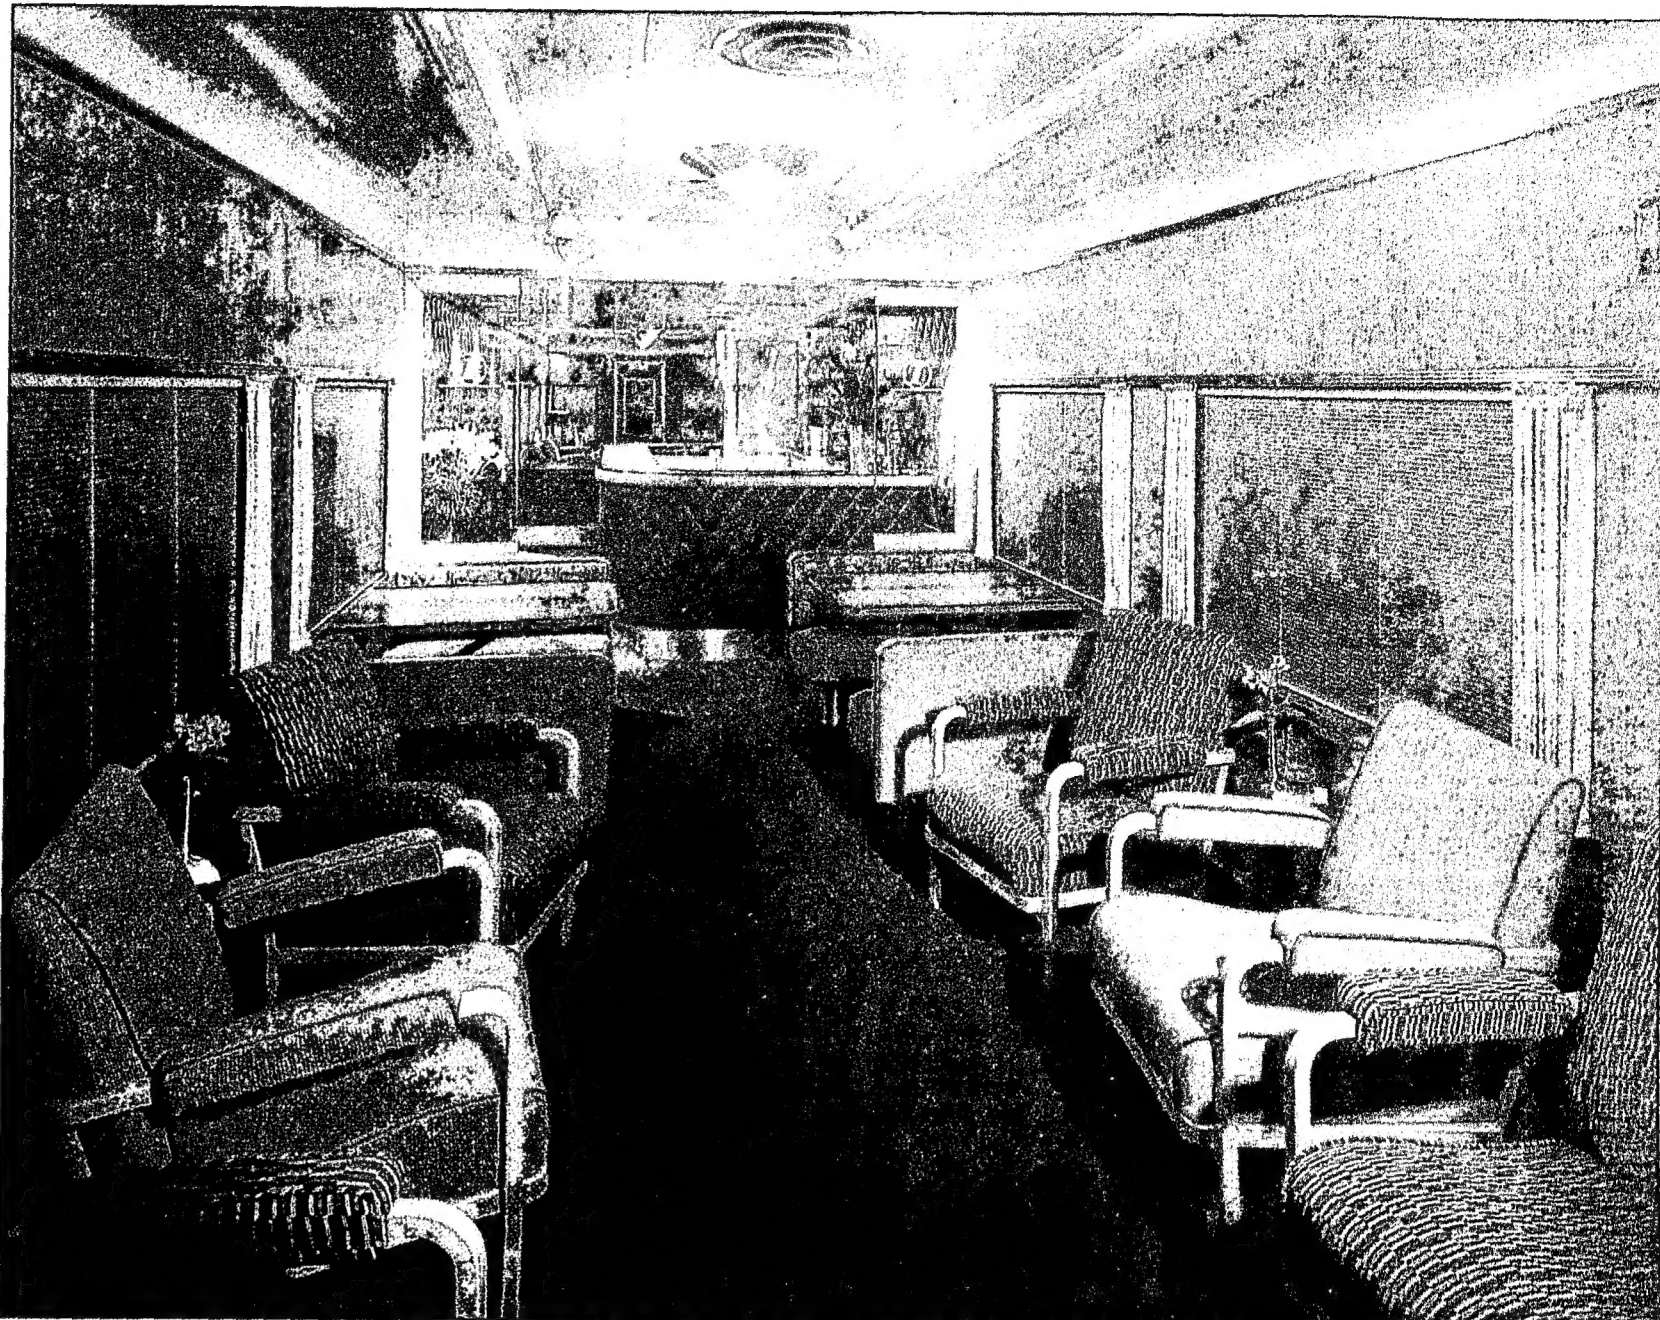

Passengers will check their skis and poles at the baggage car and not touch them again until they get off the shuttle bus at South Ridge Lodge.

As the train rolls northward from Portland, continental breakfasts will be available. On the return in the evening, basic pub fare will be served.

The train will have two club cars, where alcohol will be served.

The round trip fare will be $15 for TRAVELING IN STYLE--The classic 1917 club car "Good Cheer" will serve passengers on Sunday River's new ski train.

Ski Train not tied to fate of Cross Street project

Sunday River's new ski train is being organized by a skiway subsidiary, Sunday River Transportation; it is not formally a part of the proposed Cross Street commercial development.

Skiway owner Les Otten, one of the partners in the proposed Cross Street project, said the new ski train service will go ahead regardless of the ultimate fate of the $25 million commercial development.

There is currently no train station in Bethel, and for the coming ski season at least, plans call for ski train passengers to disembark from the passing tracks along Railroad Street.

The Cross Street project includes a new passenger station, and Otten acknowledged that he hopes the reality of passenger rail service in Bethel will act as "a catalyst for the project."

The Bethel selectmen and developer Heinie Merrill are scheduled to meet again tonight (Wednesday) in secret session to attempt to finalize a proposal to put before Bethel voters--who must approve the sale of a parcel of town-owned land in the heart of the proposed development.

But whatever the fate of the Cross Street proposal, Otten said, trains are likely to play an increasing role in the skiway's future.

Nine new puppies need a nanny

By WENDY HANSCOM

The family pet suddenly dead. Nine six-day-old puppies left motherless. An 18-month-old baby needing daily physical therapy. Even with all these worries, Scott and Robin Mills of Bethel still found plenty to be thankful for last week: caring neighbors, helpful friends and a son well on his way to full recovery from surgery to remove a brain tumor.

Last Tuesday, six days after giving birth to nine beagle/black lab mix puppies, the Mills' mother-dog, Velvet, was run over on lower Main Street.

Rick Wiltzius and Dan Smith of Skidders Deli ran out of their shop and loaded the injured dog into a truck. Smith drove Robin to the vet's, while Wiltzius stayed and took care of the Mills' baby, Mason.

But Velvet was too badly injured to save, and had to be put to sleep.

In the middle of moving into a new, not quite finished, home in Albany, Robin was suddenly surrogate mother to nine puppies who didn't even have their eyes open yet.

The puppies are so small they need to be fed every few hours. They drink Gerber baby formula out of a baby bottle. By the time all nine of the puppies have been fed, it's almost time to start over. A heating pad under a pad of newspapers keeps the pups warm. With no mother-dog to keep them clean, the puppies also have to be washed frequently with a warm washcloth. It's a lot of work.

Robin must also put Mason through his physical therapy exercises daily. Mason was diagnosed with a low-grade cancerous brain tumor and operated on seven months ago, Robin said. The removal of the tumor was successful, she said. The baby didn't need radiation or chemotherapy, she said, and his progress and prognosis is good.

"I'm thankful that the baby is doing well," Robin said, "that the puppies have made it so far and for the help of the guys at the deli. They were really great. It was a real

Local deer kill up

By WENDY HANSCOM

The recently completed deer and bear hunting season in this area, and across the state, was relatively safe and productive this year.

Statewide there were only six accidents, none involving fatalities, were recorded. Locally, the only reported hunting mishap was a lost hunter in Upton. Game wardens found the missing Connecticut man before dark and returned him to his Upton hunting camp.

Final deer kill figures will not be available for another week or so, but Paul Fournier, spokesman for the state Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, said the kill will probably be near the pre-season projection of 28,000--about the same as last year.

At the end of the third week of the season, 20,576 deer had been killed.

Deer kill figures were up slightly in Newry, Bethel, Andover and West Paris. Bear kill figures were up in Bethel and West Paris and down in Newry.

Local kill

About 230,000 hunting licenses were issued this season. The species muzzle-loading season is being held this week and may add a few more deer to the local total, but as of the end of regular deer season, local tagging stations reported the following totals (1992 totals in parentheses):

Bear River Cabins in Newry: 38 (34) deer, 12 (17) bear.

Bob's Corner Store in Locke Mills: 54 (54), does not tag bear.

Brown's Mobil Station in Bethel: 75 (67) deer, 34 (20) bear.

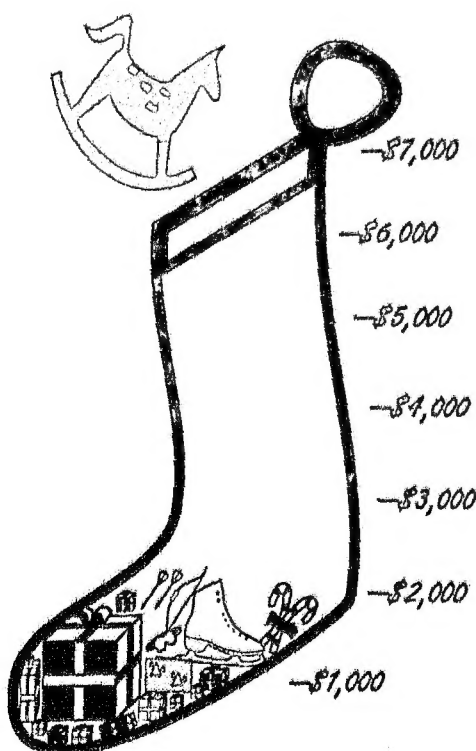

Mills Market in Andover: 89 (60) deer, 21 (22) bear.

Trap Corner Store in West Paris: 138 (132) deer, 14 (6) bear.

Some big bucks were bagged this year.

LIES ABOUT THE CHIEF

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to the letter about Chief Bellman in last week's "Bethel Citizen." The comments that were made were not only misleading, but were lies. I was very disappointed to see that The Citizen didn't have anyone question residents, or the daycare staff before publishing such accusations. If the Citizen had done so, they would have found out how untrue the accusations were. As a resident of Bethel Park Apartments myself I can honestly say Chief Bellman does not spend "most" of his time at the Bethel Park Apartments. Also, in regards to the comment made that he spends up to two hours inside an apartment while leaving his car running outside is a lie. Chief Bellman has never stayed more than 15 minutes in an apartment, and has never made himself unavailable for an emergency. Wherever Chief Bellman goes he carries a portable radio with him at all times, and has always responded to and been off at the scene of any emergency within minutes. The comment about Chief Bellman harassing Bethel Park tenants while off duty was incorrect, since Chief Bellman is on call 24 hours a day. When another police officer requests his assistance and he shows up to assist them, it is not harassment—it is his job. I hope I can speak for most of the town when I say I see Chief Bellman as a highly respected police officer who has a job that never ends. He is on call 24 hours a day and puts his life on the line everyday, just to make it a better and safer place for our children and us to live. That alone deserves more respect than we all could ever give him. The only ones spreading rumors, making rude comments and accusations of harassment while off duty are the ones that the police are continuously being called out on complaints about fighting, parties, or loud music being played from the hours of midnight and 3 in the morning, and the lack of respect they have for anyone is quite obvious. In closing, I would just like to say that as a resident of Bethel Park Apartments and a taxpayer I think something should be done to see that places like these go to the people who really need and appreciate a nice place to live at a rent they can afford. It's giving some people a place they can constantly party. It's funny how for people with such a limited income, some none at all, there sure seems to be enough for partying night after night, and way too much trouble.

THE CHIEF DOES HIS JOB

To the Editor:

As I was reading the Bethel Citizen this morning, I was very displeased with the letter from "Upset with Police Chief." How many times have the police been called to the Bethel Park? Also I think that this person may not realize that there are problems there, and when Police Chief Bellman or any other officer is called they have to go. I know personally that Police Chief Bellman has been there when we needed him, no matter if he's on vacation or it's his night off. I called him myself one night about 10:45 p.m. I woke him up and he arrived at our home by 11 p.m. Police Chief Bellman stayed with us until after 2 a.m. dealing with a very personal matter. He stayed to calm us down and to calm our fear and also to let us know what our rights are and so forth. All I can say is: Thank you Police Chief Bellman for being there for my family and a lot of other families also.

WHY RELOCATE CROSS STREET?

To the Editor:

After reading the letter from Kathryn Buyze in last week's Citizen, I must say that I agree with her, but may I add a bit more on that subject. There is nothing in this $25 million project that I need, and it won't benefit me one bit. As far as I can see, the only one that will benefit is the Sunday River Ski Resort, a place that doesn't interest a lot of us old settlers in Bethel. There are those in Bethel who are pushing hard for this project and they don't own any property in the town. This $25 million deal will put the valuation of the town out of sight. Therefore, the less the state will kick in for SAD44. I would be leery about some of these out-of-town developers. For example, they want to relocate Cross Street closer to the big river, which I think is a mistake. In 1785 the big river (it was then known as the Great River) rose 25 feet above the banks by Davis Park. It could happen again. I have been looking at Bethel for the last 70 years and like it the way it is now or 50 years ago. If this deal goes through every shopkeeper on Main Street will be standing on the curb selling pencils and singing "Brother Can You Spare a Dime" louder than Rudy Vallee used to sing it. I hope that the School Board has sense enough not to put the SAD44 buses out for hire. So when town meeting rolls around, I hope that the people have sense enough to think twice before they vote. If not, they may be in for a big let-down. The ambulance barn and the town garage look good where they are now.

THANKS FOR THE HELP

To the Editor:

Recently, as renters in Eden Ridge, we suffered an electrical fire. The black smoke was horrendous and impenetrable; yet the Bethel, Newry and Gilcad firefighters, under Assistant Fire Chief Brown, were prompt, efficient and supportive. We will always be appreciative of their help and the help of neighbors who not only called fire, police and EMS for us but helped us move to new quarters.

Once again, thanks to Earl, Burt, Becky and our neighbors who got assistance for us.

PUMPING UP IN LOCKE MILLS—Mt. Abram snowmaker Mike Gilbert fine tunes one of the ski area's new snow guns. The area is aiming for a Dec. 11 opening day, and the Mt. Abram snowmaking crew has been making snow around the clock, taking advantage of the recent cold weather. With overnight temperatures dipping into the teens and single numbers and clear skies, the snowmakers are working with ideal conditions. Mt. Abram's new owners doubled the overall capacity of the snowmaking system this summer; and according to Bruce Smith, the area's director of snowmaking, the effort and expense have already paid off. Mt. Abram has also added after-cooling units to the air compression system, further increasing the efficiency of the snowmaking. "It's already obvious that our system is putting out at least double what it did last year," Smith said. Ski Mt. CHRISTMAS FOR FAMILIES

To the Editor:

The Christmas for Families organization would like to thank Dr. Joseph DeMarco of Bethel Chiropractic (along with Lori DeMarco and Beverly Waterhouse) for the terrific food drive he sponsored for Bethel area families. And thank you to all the generous people whose donations made the food drive a rousing success. Many families benefited from the mountains of food in the form of Thanksgiving baskets and there is more for Christmas baskets, too. Also thanks to the West Bethel Union Church for their monetary donation. It helped so much in the purchase of perishables that rounded out the baskets.

Christmas for Families is a non-profit organization that obtains names of families that need help and meets the needs of those families. If there is anyone who knits or crochets, we would be happy to provide the yarn to make hats, mittens, sweaters, etc., or materials for other items. Anyone wishing to make donations please contact Nina Wheeler, director of Christmas for Families, at 836-3600.

The families may be assured that their names remain anonymous. Christmas for Families tries to work with other area organizations so that there is not a duplication of items. We try to make sure that all members of the family receive something as everyone, including teenagers, love Christmas as much as younger children. Please call 836-3600 for more information.

We would also like to invite the public to a benefit bingo sponsored by the American Legion Jackson Silver Post (located on the Gore Road in Locke Mills) on Sunday, Dec. 5, at 1 p.m. Doors open at 11 a.m. There will be a food sale and raffles. We hope to see you.

Thank you.

TMS JOBS BANK WORKS

To the Editor:

It's a common problem that in most communities jobs for kids in the pre-driving years are difficult to find. Yet kids ages 12-15 are full of energy, motivation and curiosity to learn. Recently I was lucky to discover at Telstar Middle School a Jobs Bank. I had a job, staining clapboards, registered it with the guidance office, and within days had four eager workers at my house getting the impossible done.

Thanks to Telstar Middle School and student workers Sarah Richardson, Sarah Seames, Kelly Sezen, and Bethany Howe. And I hope community members will think of the Telstar Middle School Jobs Bank when you have a job to be done.

THANKS FOR THE MELODIES

To the Editor:

I have just returned from the Woodstock Elementary School Thanksgiving concert. I would like to thank Linda Stowell for keeping the spirit of music alive in SAD44. Some time ago this district had a music department it could be proud of. We have lost this experience for our Telstar students, but Linda gives it back to our elementary children. She deserves a big round of applause.

Upton

Scribners plea not guilty to terrorizing

By KAREN KREWOKURA

An Upton couple accused in October of threatening to kill town officials and then themselves have entered pleas of not guilty and requested a jury trial.

Attorney James Martemucci of Rumford said he has requested a jury trial for his clients, Jeffrey and Cynthia Scribner, who are to be tried in Oxford County Superior Court on charges of terrorizing.

The trial would most likely take place in 1994, Martemucci said. The Scribners are charged with threatening to kill town officials and then themselves in a dispute over road maintenance jobs. The two have worked as members of the road maintenance crew and were laid off by selectmen last spring.

They were arrested by the Oxford County Sheriff's Department on Oct. 22 after Selectman Constance Gagnon reported she was threatened by the couple on Oct. 19, according to a police affidavit.

The Scribners allegedly went to Gagnon's home and threatened to kill her and her husband and to burn down their house. The Scribners also allegedly threatened to kill Selectman Patricia Lewit and her husband, Road Commissioner

Michael Lewit, at their home.

According to a police affidavit, the Scribners said they would kill themselves after killing the Lewits.

Martemucci said Tuesday that his clients "still adamantly deny (the charges). I think some people have made wild statements and accusations. It's gotten a little bit out of control."

He told the Sun-Journal on Nov. 2 that his clients believed they were the victims of "a political process going on in town that's gotten way out of hand." He added that "someone has made a rather large false statement" to the police.

Newry

Town Meeting to consider reg changes

By WENDY HANSCOM

Newry Selectmen have called a special Town Meeting on Dec. 13 to consider appropriating more money for two town accounts and to make changes in the town's road specs and shoreland ordinances.

Voters will consider 14 relatively minor changes in the town's road and shoreland zoning ordinances.

Proposed changes to the road ordinance include widening shoulders and reducing slope grades to avoid sharp vertical drop-offs alongside town roads, according to Selectman Steve Wight.

If the ordinance changes are passed, all bridges in town will also have to be approved by a professional engineer, Wight said. Currently, only bridges over the Sunday and Bear rivers require an engineer's stamp.

One change in the shoreland zoning regulations would put a time limit on approved work in a shoreland zone.

Voters will also be asked to approve appropriating money from surplus for shortfalls in two town accounts.

The administration and salaries account had $3,740.37 in it last week, and Administrative Assistant Sylvia Gray predicted it will take about $7,830 to pay town employees through Dec. 31.

The account is short because of the time needed to compile tax information and assessment studies, and post bills to the more than 600 condo owners at the Summit Hotel at Sunday River, Gray said.

Selectmen will ask for $5,000 to cover the shortage.

Townpeople will also be asked to cover a $1,100 overdraft in the Bear River Grange Hall maintenance account.

A new door for the town-owned hall cost more than anticipated, Wight said, and extensive electrical work was done over the summer.

The town had money to do the electrical work in 1992, Wight said, but the work didn't get done. The funds lapsed into surplus.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m., Monday, Dec. 13 at the Town Office.

THIS WEEK AT THE

Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the annual "Christmas with the Masons" will be held on Thursday, Dec. 2, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

The museum will be decorated as it might have been in the early 19th century with boughs, fruit and berries; hot mulled cider and Christmas treats will be served from the hearth of the winter kitchen; Christmas music will ring throughout the house. At 7:30 p.m. the monthly meeting will be held. The program will feature slides of Society activities during the past year as well as those made from old photographs taken during 1993. Anyone wishing to attend this meeting is cordially invited to do so.

At the business meeting, the question of raising some categories in the Society's dues structure will be considered. Both the Membership Committee and the Board of Trustees have endorsed the following changes: Sustaining dues go from $5 to $10 per year, senior dues go from $3 to $5, student dues from $2 to $3, contributing dues from $15 to $20. Life membership rates would also change: Life single would go from $50 to $75 for anyone 55 years or older; married couple 55 or older, the rate would be raised from $75 to $125; single rate for anyone under 55 would go from $100 to $150; the rate for a married couple under 55 years would increase from $150 to $200. The patron ($30), benefactor ($40), and corporate ($50) under the proposal will remain the same. The change in the sustaining, senior, student and contributing rates, being proposed, is the first one since 1987. The life membership rates have not been changed since the mid-1970s.

Among the reasons for the change is the need to generate additional income to overcome lower returns on investments. Costs for printing and postage have also risen since 1987. Most historical societies and museums with professional staffs in Maine have at least a $15 basic membership level so even a $10 (pending approval) the Society will still be a membership bargain compared with those historical agencies. If voted, these changes will not take effect until July 1, 1994, so all members affected will renew at the old rate during the month of December.

The third annual 25 percent sale will again be a feature during the month of December.

Down the line...

The ski train's first year of service will be limited to Portland runs, but Sunday River president Les Otten said the potential of the train is limitless, especially in light of new state and federal transportation policies that allow for subsidies for alternative (to the automobile) means of transportation.

In fact, today's press conference is being co-sponsored by the Maine Department of Transportation, which is providing some financial backing for the ski train. MDOT will be allocating some start-up funding (the amount is still being negotiated) and state and federal funds will be used to improve the railbed between Bethel and Portland.

Before the train scheme can go much farther, more railbed (particularly the Guilford-Industries owned spur into Union Station in Portland) must be upgraded. Such upgrades will undoubtedly also involve some public money.

Supporters of the restoration of passenger rail service have compared those subsidies to the traditional use of public funds to build and maintain highways.

Not a profit center

But even with public subsidies (and commercial underwriting by the companies such as Coors Brewery) the ski train is not expected to be a moneymaker right out of the station.

Sunday River hopes any initial losses can be made up by the sale of additional lift tickets, Otten said, but he admitted that at this point there was no way of telling how many new ticket sales the train will generate—since many of the passengers will presumably be switching from their cars to the train and would have come skiing one way or another.

Down the line, however, Otten sees the trains as playing a major, and profitable, role in getting skiers to the mountain, perhaps on a very large scale.

If the roadbed upgrades become a reality, the train could one day haul skiers from Boston and points south, as well as collect East Coast charter-tour skiers coming in by air to the Auburn-Lewiston Airport (which has a 5,000 foot long runway—long enough to handle all but the largest commercial jets). International ski charters into the Portland Jetport are also a possibility, Otten said.

The tracks heading north from Bethel also point to potential markets. In fact, Montreal was the initial focus when Sunday River officials began exploring the feasibility of a ski train.

But border-crossing red tape and go-slow tracks between Bethel and Montreal have ruled out an international ski train for the present.

Better tracks would be a big help in setting up such a run, Otten said, but public-private cooperation is essential to making passenger rail work, "and transportation officials in Vermont and New Hampshire aren't going to fall all over themselves fixing tracks to move skiers into Maine."

The romance of it

But there's more to the train than what shows on the bottom line. In Europe trains are a familiar and heavily used way of moving around—including for setting off on ski vacations.

But for most Americans rail travel is still a bit exotic. Riding the rails to the slopes, Otten said, adds an element of romance that makes the total ski experience even more of an adventure.

Roll 'em

The new service will also be an adventure for Sunday River. "We're going into this without a lot of knowledge," Otten admitted. "We figure that if we can just put the train there then the other pieces will begin to fall into place. We're banking on the romance that exists between Americans and trains."

Puppies

emergency and they really helped and I want to thank them for it."

The Mills have had some help with the puppies, but are looking for volunteers or perhaps a lactating mother-dog to help take care of the brood.

Smith and Wiltz kept the pups on Thanksgiving day and her friend Michelle Conroy has also puppysat.

"I promised Velvet I'd take good care of them," Robin said. "We're hoping there's a mother dog out there with milk that might adopt them or someone with some time during the day or evening that can puppysit for a few hours."

If anyone is willing to watch and feed the pups for a few hours, Robin is willing to drop them off—box, formula, bottle, heating pad and all, so she can work at getting moved into her new home.

The Mills hope to be in their new home within a week, and had to be moved out of their apartment by yesterday (Tuesday). They'll stay with friends a few days.

The Mills have found eventual homes for five of the pups and still have four to give away. She'd prefer to keep the pups together for the next couple of weeks, but said she might be talked into letting someone adopt one—preferably a pair—now, if that person had the time to put into caring for an infant pup.

Anyone interested in puppysitting can call Scott Mills at 824-3000, extension 271, or Michelle Conroy at 824-3275.

Hunting

At Bear River Cabins, Danny Long of Locke Mills tagged a 261-pound buck.

Vincent Roberts of Bethel tagged a 218-pound, nine-point buck at Bob's Corner Store. Pat Hussey of South Paris took the largest deer tagged at the Trap Corner Store, a 228-pound buck.

Brown's Mobil logged two deer over 200 pounds. Dean Brown of Bethel shot a 256-pound, six-point buck and Howard Chapman of Bethel tagged a 215-pound, 10-point buck.

Ed Bennett of Newry was the winner of the Upton Trading Post's big buck contest. Bennett shot a 199-pound deer.

"Lack of snow made it a little tough to see where the deer were moving," said hunter and Upton Trading Post owner Jeri Geiling. "It wasn't real cold, although sometimes that makes the deer move around, but (the cold) is not real pleasant for the hunters."

said she wasn't successful this year, but wasn't discouraged.

"The hunting was pretty good," Johnson said. "Although it didn't do me any good. I just enjoy getting out in the woods. The weather wasn't as cold as it was last year. On Saturday I was out with my grandmother and we saw a moose. My brothers also said they saw a moose about every time they went out."

Swimming for it

Steve Binette of Bethel went for a chilly swim in the Androscoggin River in order to land his 204-pound, eight-point buck.

"After I shot it, it swam three-quarters of the way across the river and died," Binette said. "Then it floated down the river about a mile. Some friends of mine were with me and the three of us swam in after it. It was very, very cold and the deer was sinking fast."

Binette said the swim was worth the chill. The buck was recovered and the meat is tasty.

Ski trains: a rich tradition but poor bottom line

Sixty years ago ski trains played a major role in making skiing more than just a sport for the privileged upper class, according to John Allen, author of "From Skisport to Skiing: 100 years of American sport" and historian for the New England Ski Museum in Franconia, N.H.

During their heyday in the 1930s, ski trains carried tens of thousands of city dwellers north into New England ski country. "The trains made skiing accessible to white collar workers, even to those a little further down the social ladder, like shop foremen and secretaries," Allen told The Citizen.

Skiers, in fact, even helped to offset the overall loss of passengers that American railroads were beginning to suffer during the decade of the depression. By 1940 the ski trains had become so popular that part of Manhattan's Grand Central Station had to be roped off to hold back the crowds of spectators who turned out to watch the ski trains depart.

But World War II put an end to all that, and by the time the war was over and prosperity returned, automobiles and airplanes had become the preferred means of travel. The construction of the Interstate Highway System in the 1950s was the death knell, not only for ski trains, but for passenger rail service in general. Bethel saw its last railroad passengers in the early 1960s.

Since then, Allen said, there have been scattered, usually unsuccessful, efforts to revive the ski-train tradition. Currently, only one ski train is in regular operation in the United States, according to Carl Spangler of Sunday River. It runs between Denver and Winter Park, Colorado, and was recently sold by the Santa Fe Railroad, which had been unable to operate it profitably. The new owners have been able to run the ski train in the black, Spangler said.

From the Bethel Police log:

Lumber, tools stolen from Flat Road

Tuesday morning, construction workers at a job site on the Flat Road reported the theft of tools and lumber valued at $4,000.

Wednesday, a Intervale Road resident asked police to tell distributors of the Berlin Reporter to stop throwing the weekly newspapers on his lawn. Police also two received similar complaints last week. (The Berlin Reporter is published by the Oxford Group. Questions or complaints may be filed at 743-8958).

Police also made two arrests last week.

Tuesday, Nov. 23, David A. Berry, 27, of Bethel was arrested on a charge of domestic assault.

Sunday, Gregory Erskine, 36, of Newry was arrested on a charge of driving while under the influence of an intoxicant.

So. Woodstock

By ANDREA WING

Joyce and Ellsworth Hathaway had supper with Joyce's brother and wife, Phil and Ada Cummings recently. Phil and Ada are house sitting at Wendell Twitchell's house for a while.

Joyce and Ellsworth showed their crafts at the craft show at Locke Mills Fire Station recently. They take the crafts they make to several places during the year. I have never been lucky enough to see the things they make but I have heard that the carvings of birds are fantastic.

Esmer Davis and daughter Pat Tibbitts traveled to North Jay to attend the 25th wedding anniversary of Esther's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hines. It was a family gathering and greatly enjoyed. While in North Jay Esther and Pat called on a friend of Pat's, Celina Melby.

Larry Billings, curator at Woodstock Historical Society, reports that the society evaluates and studies its exhibits regularly to see what they teach the public. He also says that the historical society wishes everyone the best for the holidays.

Andrea Wing visited her brother and wife, Phelps and Joan Poland, for a while Saturday. Joan has had a bad cold but is feeling much better.

Andrea also called on her brother Vernon Poland at the Ledgeview Nursing Home this week. His wife Tommy, who faithfully visits him daily, was there, along with his daughter Sandra Monzo. While at Ledgeview Janet Benson stopped by and chatted with Andrea for a short while. Janet was there with her mother, Zella Silver. Zella seemed in good spirits and seems to enjoy people visiting her.

Alex Poland brought Andrea over some eggs Monday night. Alex raises chickens and sells some of the eggs. He loves to talk about how he loves farming. Andrea always enjoys visiting with him.

We received some snow here Saturday. This made the roads quite slippery. I guess it's about time for it, always seems to come too soon.

Charibel Poland was laid up a couple of days with a blood clot in her ankle. She has been taking some medicine and is doing much better. Nothing keeps her down for long.

Hope everyone had an enjoyable Thanksgiving Holiday.

Songo Pond

By ALICE KIMBALL

The lower end of the pond was iced over Thanksgiving Day with the temperature down in the single numbers.

With the Adams family of Hanover we all enjoyed a bountiful feast of turkey and all the "fixins," as the Pilgrims did over three-hundred years ago, with the Bean-Turner family in Otsfield. Other guests were: Bernie, Kassie, and Kathy Gatchell from Portland, Frank Bean and Lilla Sylvester from Poland.

Brandon and Tara Salway from Old Orchard Beach were overnight visitors here Wednesday then going on to New Hampshire to enjoy Thanksgiving with her folks.

Bill and Phyllis Bancroft entertained Thanksgiving Day Mr. and Mrs. Paul Halle and son Greg of Lisbon Falls, Brian and Stephanie Krok of Brunswick Naval Station, and Mrs. Grace Morrill of Bethel. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gardner of Watford were callers late in the day.

Laugh a lot, and when you are older all your wrinkles will be in the right places.

By CRYSTAL LAKE

On Thanksgiving Day, Al, Brent and Crystal Lake went to Strong to have Thanksgiving dinner with Al's Aunt Mim and other family members and friends. We have been going to Strong on Thanksgiving for 23 years. We, as usual, had an abundance of food. We enjoyed visiting with the family and friends and hope to get up to see them before next Thanksgiving. I am reminded each year to be thankful for what I have and be thankful every day.

I want to thank all the organizations who did feed the ones who would otherwise go without. Let us all not get so comfortable in our own private lives that we do not see or reach out to those that are in need.

There was a black cat found at the bottom of West Knoll Road this past week that had been struck by a car. Lorraine Mills found the cat and took it to Doc Hudson to take care of him. If anyone is missing a black cat, this is what happened to him.

East Stoneham

By ELEANOR NELSON

Gladys Kilgore, Grace Nelson, Carole Nelson, Gladys Plummer and myself attended the Thanksgiving dinner on Sunday at the Chief's Table in Norway. Dinner was just as good as ever and it's good to get together and visit and be thankful for what we have.

Royce Grant from South Paris called on Frances Grant on Sunday. Margery Rugg is on vacation from her work in Fryeburg this week.

Bethany and Pete Rogers have employment at Evergreen Valley.

Jackie Jones from Watford is renting Lawrence Dadmun's house here in Stoneham for the winter. She has employment in Conway, N.H. Heidi and Heather Shugars spent the night Friday with Frances Grant and attended the wedding Saturday of Judy Morton and Del Parker in Dixfield. They went with Eleanor Nelson. It was a nice wedding and reception and we wish them much happiness. Judy is Frances' and Eleanor's niece.

Well, we got rid of the pesky red squirrel (it cost $33) and now tell us how to get rid of the skunk. The squirrel had a nice lunch of peanut butter and a ride to the further end of town but don't think the master would like to take the skunk for a ride.

Hope everyone had a nice Thanksgiving.

Roy Johnson was around town selling Avon products for his wife.

Our son-in-law Paul Barnard called us from Washington, D.C. and said he was heading back to Turkey. He's been in the states for three weeks with Turkish officers inspecting helicopters for use in Turkey.

Eleanor Nelson called on Marilyn Jones in Norway one day last week and got one of her cookbooks she is selling of the McAllister Recipes. This is a very unique cookbook, as besides the luscious recipes, it has a picture of the person who submitted the recipe or the person it is in memory of and their birth date and a little bit about them. It is very interesting and some people might like it for the genealogy bit of it besides the good recipes. She has lots of books if you want one.

I also called on Wanda and Joe Ryerson and little Zachary who is just a sweet little bundle and he wants you to know he's around when he's awake.

Andover

By KAREN MCKAY

The First Congregational Church will hold their Country Church Craft Fair on Saturday, Dec. 4, from 9-4 at the CEB. There will be a Santa's Surprise Raffle. A luncheon will be held, corn chowder and sandwiches are on the menu.

The Andover Historical Society will have a table at the Country Church Craft Fair on Saturday, 1994. Calendars and stationery will be available to buy. Placemat and print orders will be taken.

Joyce Morgan and Gail Parent, authors of the book "Once Upon a Farm," will be at Andover Library for a book signing on Saturday, Dec. 4, from 10-1:30. Books will be available for purchase at this time.

All area children are reminded that Santa will be in town to meet them on Sunday, Dec. 5, at 2 p.m. at the fire station.

Mrs. Richardson would like third and fourth-graders interested in playing basketball to meet at the school on Saturday, Dec. 4, from 8:30 to 10 a.m. for their first practice.

Octavia Poole of New London, Conn. and Medea Poole of New Haven, Conn. were guests of their grandfather, Floyd Emerson Sr. for Thanksgiving and several days stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Meisner entertained a houseful of Thanksgiving visitors. Mr. and Mrs. Marlan Dyment and family of Windham, Gary Meisner of Augusta, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Hall of Ashburnham, Mass., and Kevin Hall of New York, Mr. Howard Glover of Dixfield joined the group for Thanksgiving dinner.

Gilead

By LOUISE LORING

Twenty-four more days 'til Christmas. The advent calendars are brought out, wreaths are in the making. Their evergreen boughs create nostalgic aromas of Christ-masses past, and for today are being mingled with the odors of cookies baking in the kitchen. Oh, by the way, have you seen a partridge in your pear tree yet? Clarice Gibson reports that last week when crossing the iron ridge here in town, which divides Route 2 from the north side, a picture postcard view caught her attention. It was that of about 20 or 30 loons gathered in the water below. Evidently they were parents and offspring congregating for their migration down to the coastal waters. Loons spend much of their lives in the water and come ashore only to mate and breed in inland rivers and lakes.

The Hugh Chapmans entertained Millie McLain and their son Timmy last week on Thanksgiving. Chris and his family were unable to attend as he had to work at an Ellsworth radio station where he is employed as a disc jockey.

Josie Greenwood entertained her son and family from Fitchburg, Mass., her brother Roland Morin of Gorham, N.H., and Audrey Franklin of town over the holidays.

Audrey Franklin has rented her mobile home for the winter season and is spending her time visiting relatives and friends in Missouri and Florida during the next few months. We shall miss her cheery face and kind countenance around this place, but hope she has a whale of a time and enjoys herself immensely.

Rose Taylor entertained her sons Ted and Joe Taylor and families for their Thanksgiving gathering.

Remember folks this is your column and any news you have will be appreciated, as people in other towns have been missing hearing from us. Call me. Thank you.

On Nov. 21 Floribel Haines' hip gave way and she fell. She underwent surgery on Monday and is doing well. She is at Stephens Memorial Hospital, room 222, in Norway.

Peggy Coolidge and Opal Tyler attended the National Honor Society's Thanksgiving dinner for the Senior Citizens. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Smith also attended. A very good dinner.

Ruby Coolidge, her daughter Teresa Walker, and granddaughter, Nicena, and sister Susie Buckman were in Massachusetts on Nov. 20 and 21 visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alan Corkum.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Dyke's guests for Thanksgiving were her mother Marie Barker, their daughter Doreen Kelly and her family, their son Dana and his family, and David Barker.

Fred Haines got a 10-point buck on Nov. 23.

Dori Hallman with children,

Megan, Whitney and Heather, visited Arlene Harrington for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Grant of Winterport, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jackson and children of Old Town and Marilyn Mollicone of Augusta visited Leslie Noyes for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gamble of Hanover, N.H., Mr. and Mrs. David Dalke of Shrewsbury, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Flanagan of Sudbury, Mass., visited Florence Hastings for Thanksgiving. All had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bancroft of Paris Hill.

George Bethel is home for Thanksgiving from the University of Rhode Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Haines, Nancy Mercer, and Grace Gibson had Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. George Haines and family of Kimball Hill.

Denise Coolidge and friend, Dan O'Leary, from UMO spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Coolidge.

Peggy Coolidge had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Coolidge on Thanksgiving Day.

No. Woodstock

By SHANE BILLINGS

It is a cool day, and there are a few remaining patches of snow here in Pinhook. It seems that the snow hangs on there long after it has melted everywhere else. Winter is coming, and with it will come Christmas. There is going to be a hymn sing at the North Woodstock meeting house this Friday, and it should help everyone get into the spirit of the season.

The results of the drawing for the Thanksgiving basket are in. Herschel Abbott drew Ashley Miller's name on Saturday, Nov. 20. The tickets were to benefit the meeting house, and it was a nice way to earn money. There was another winner in Pinhook recently—Rob Davis won the Telstar Drama Club's drawing on Saturday as well. Raffle tickets were sold to benefit the drama club, and the winner got to split the profits from the play equally with the organization.

Speaking of the play, it was wonderful. I went to see it on opening night, and the cast, including my brother Jason, all did a spectacular job. They had an even bigger crowd on Saturday night despite the heavy snow. My father and I were caught in the middle of the storm on my way home from work; it was so bad that we had to pull over to the side of the road. Thank goodness I wasn't driving!

Malcolm Billings accompanied Gary Wing to Northfield, Vt., to pick up Gary's son Troy at Norwich University on Friday, Nov. 19.

Louise Chapman will be traveling to South Carolina in December to attend the graduation of her daughter Sarah from basic training at Fort Jackson. Sarah graduated from Telstar High School in 1987, went to college for four years, and then spent two years teaching in Blue Hill.

That's all the news for this week. I hope everyone has a nice week and starts to get ready for the upcoming holidays, just as we will here in Pinhook.

North Newry

By GIL SEELEY

Some North Newry people enjoyed a Thanksgiving dinner given by the Telstar and Gould Academy National Honor Societies for all area senior citizens. I went with Karlene Bachelder. I saw Doris Parent and her husband, Sylvia and Bill Wight, also Freda Robertson, and maybe there were a few more from here but I couldn't see them. There were about 160 people at the dinner. Cheryl Myers welcomed us and Jennifer Bowie said a prayer. Music was furnished by the Richard Felt Orchestra—nice swinging tempo. The dinner was delicious and a lot of prizes were won. Doris got one and so did Karlene. We want to thank all those young people who catered to us and made us feel important. God Bless them all.

The Newry Community Church held its Sunday services on Nov. 21. Dick Chase gave the message of the day: "Know ye that the Lord He is God: It is He that hath made us, and not we ourselves. We are His people, and the Sheep of His Pasture." Taken from PS-100. The musical group from the Alliance Church furnished the music.

Bill and Sylvia Wight and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Straus, daughter and son-in-law, and little Melissa spent Thanksgiving with Steve and David Wight and their families in Old Town.

A Happy Birthday to Freda Robertson—"Wishes for sunshine and good health."

Guests for Thanksgiving at Ras and Karlene Bachelder's were: their son Aaron and his wife Colleen and their children, Krista, Jenny, Holly and Aaron, Jr. from Mars Hill; granddaughter Michelle and her husband Paul Josephson; and grandson Tom O'Donnell from Portland. They received some telephone calls from California, Rhode Island, down South, etc., and of course I was also there to enjoy the feast.

The Newry Firemen Ladies Auxiliary food sale of Nov. 20 was a great success, and the winner of the 50/50 gamble was Lori Swain of Bethel. We want to thank everyone who donated the food and bought tickets. Also, thanks to the Bethel I.G.A.

P.S.—No bowling this week, everybody was busy stuffing their turkey!!

High Street

West Paris

By RUSSELL YATES

This is another cloudy Monday morning and I'd better get my mail or news ready to mail today as there will be no mail on Thursday. We've enjoyed a lot of changeable weather the past week, but I might as well enjoy it, since I can't seem to change it.

Last Monday evening we attended Franklin Grange in Bryant Pond. We had a good attendance and a real good meeting and program. Our lecturer does well.

We got lots of sunshine on Tuesday, so we went to Auburn in the p.m. Peggy had some shopping to do and then we went to visit sister Viva at the Odd Fellows Home. Her cold seemed quite a lot better. They were down in the basement activity room playing Pokino. Viva sits near their activity director, and the activity director points out any numbers that Viva might miss. This game is played similar to Beano and helps keep their minds working.

We called on Viva's daughter Wynona and her two daughters, Courtney and Karianne, before returning back home.

On Thursday, Nov. 18, we attended the funeral for a good friend at the Catholic Church in Bethel. We also went to the cemetery for the ceremony, and then to The Moses Mason House for a gathering. This lady was a very good friend to a lot of people and there was a large crowd at the funeral. She had just retired from her work with plans for doing many other things, but apparently this wasn't meant to be. She will be missed by family and friends.

Thursday evening, we attended West Paris Grange. They had invited the residents from Chapel Valley Home to come for a nice Thanksgiving supper and the program that was to follow the supper. Several residents from Chapel Valley came to enjoy the evening and the rest of us enjoyed the Thanksgiving supper and evening as much as they did. Peggy and I helped with the program as did many others. Richard Felt helped us with a skit as well as furnished the music. Peggy took two pies to help with the supper, but there was so much food that we brought most of the pie home.

Sunday forenoon, we picked up Bertha Benoit in West Paris and Mary Smith down on Route 26 and then we all went to Chef's Table restaurant in Norway to take advantage of their senior citizen special. They served us a real nice Thanksgiving dinner for just $2.95 each plus drinks and tax.

There will be dances at West Paris Grange Hall on Dec. 4 and again on Dec. 11, with the Richard Felt Orchestra furnishing the music. The proceeds from the Dec. 11 dance will all go to help Christmas for Kids and will be divided between the SAD17 and SAD44 school districts. The orchestra gives its time and efforts at this dance, so it is really worthwhile. Let's all patronize them, whether we dance or not.

Oxford Pomona Grange No. 2 will be meeting at the Oxford Grange Hall on Dec. 7. There will not be a supper at this meeting as this will be the Christmas program and there will be refreshments after the meeting instead of having supper. Each one is asked to bring a gift for a member of the same sex, the gift being valued at about $3. These gifts will be exchanged.

RUMFORD POINT CHURCH CHRISTMAS FAIR

The Ladies Aid of the Rumford Point Church will hold its annual Christmas Fair and luncheon on Saturday, Dec. 4. The fair will run from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. and the soup and sandwich luncheon will be available from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Many craft items will be on sale, including Christmas mop angels, pine cone wreaths, decorated hats and novelty items. There will be knit and crocheted items, tree ornaments, white elephants, and jewelry. The food table will be stocked with a variety of baked goods and Christmas wreaths will be on sale. This year's raffle items are a handmade queen size quilt and an Old World Santa.

Among those taking part in the planning and working at the fair on Dec. 4 are Barbara Gross, Bess Eidl, Barbara Burns, Marcia Stearns, Louise Morton, Evelyn Enman, Elhel Bean, Helen Goodine, Joan Everett and Peg Thornton.

BASKETBALL PASSES

The Telstar Athletic Boosters will be selling season passes for the 1993-94 basketball season. These passes entitle the holder to attend all the boys' and girls' home games, beginning with the Round Robin on Friday, Dec. 3, at 5 p.m.

The prices are: students, $8; adults, $15; family, $25.

The passes will be on sale from now until Dec. 18 through the Boosters Club.

To purchase a season pass, contact Sarah Craig at 824-2777. Passes may be picked up and paid for at the gym door.

CLINTON OFFICIAL TO SPEAK AT DEVELOPMENT FORUM

Residents of western Maine are invited to attend a forum on sustainable community development, Tuesday, Dec. 7, at 3 p.m.

The forum is co-sponsored by the Western Mountains Alliance and the Maine Community Foundation. There is no admission charge. The forum will take place at the North Dining Hall at the University of Maine in Farmington.

The forum will begin with a keynote address by Molly Olson, the executive director of President Clinton's Council on Sustainable Development.

Olson will report on the work on the president's council, which is made up of economists, environmentalists, CEOs and cabinet members from around the United States.

Olson began working at the council Oct. 1, and Farmington will be one of her first public appearances as executive director.

The forum will continue after Olson's presentation with a discussion of sustainable issues and projects in the greater Farmington area. Residents are encouraged to stay for those discussions.

For more information: 778-7274.

BETHEL SENIOR CITIZENS

Pine Tree Legal Assistance assists low-income people with civil legal matters, such as evictions; public housing issues; denial, reduction or termination of government benefits; unemployment; and special education.

An attorney from Pine Tree will meet with clients at the following times and places in the month of December:

--Tuesday, Dec. 14, South Paris District Courthouse.

--Tuesday, Dec. 21, Bethel Area Health Center.

--Monday, Dec. 27, Rumford District Courthouse.

To schedule an appointment at any of these locations, call Pine Tree Legal Assistance at 784-1558.

DEREK BRENNAN COMPLETES USMC COURSE

Marine Lance Cpl. Derek P. Brennan, son of Yvonne M. and Leo F. Brennan, Jr. of Andover recently completed the administrative clerk course.

During the course at Marine Corps Service Support Schools, Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, NC, students are provided with the basic skills and knowledge required to perform the job of administrative clerk.

Course studies include typing and preparation of naval correspondence as well as basic office functions. A 1992 graduate of Telstar Regional High School, Brennan joined the Marine Corps in January 1993.

Agnes Gray School

By MARTA CLEMENTS

Come one, come all, to the Christmas Bazaar sponsored by the Parent Volunteer Group of both our schools. We are looking forward to this event which will be held on Saturday, Dec. 4, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Agnes Gray School gymnasium.

Parents and friends have been working hard to make lots of crafty items. There will also be a food table, photos with Santa, white elephant table, crafts made by students, Christmas wreaths, and donations taken on raffle items. Table space is also available if anyone would like to rent a space for his or her own crafts. Call Dixie Inman (Mrs. Greg) for further information. Students will be allowed to shop the day before the public sale, on Dec. 3. What a good time to do some Christmas shopping.

Along with the date of Dec. 4 for the Christmas Bazaar, please make note of Monday, Dec. 20. We have scheduled that for our annual Christmas Concert, 6:30, in the gymnasium.

AUDITIONS FOR "NONSENSE"

The Oxford Hills Music and Performing Arts Association will be conducting auditions for their May 1994 production of the musical "Nonsense" on Friday, Dec. 10, from 7 to 9 p.m., and Dec. 11, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Call-backs will take place on Sunday, Dec. 12, at 2 p.m.

All auditions will take place at the Second Congregational Church on Main Street, Norway.

Just Imagine Coffeehouse

Dec. 4 is Bethel's opening of the Christmas season, with a variety of family activities planned. Revelers may top off their day by participating in the Just Imagine Coffeehouse at the West Parish Congregational Church, adjacent to Gould Academy. The coffeehouse is open from 7 to 10 p.m. The atmosphere is informal, smoke-free and alcohol-free, and donations are requested of $3 for adults, $1.50 for children and seniors. Drop-in talent is welcome. Performances may be canceled if the weather is very bad; information on such cancellations may be obtained by calling 824-3034 on the day of the performance. Performers on Dec. 4 will be a husband-wife singing and songwriting duo from Portsmouth, N.H., Stan Moeller and T.S. Baker.

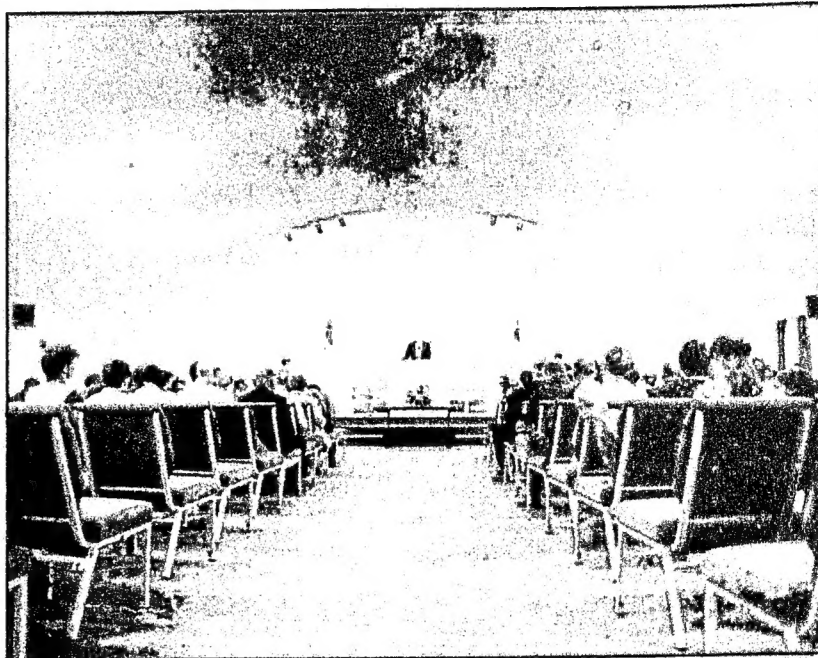

MANAGEMENT CLUB

Western Maine Management Club will meet at the Bull Ring, Oxford. Social hour will be from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. with dinner from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. The meal will be $14 per person.

The guest speaker, starting at 7:30 p.m., will be Larry Winger of Verrill & Dana. The topic will be Employment Law in Maine. Reservations for the Dec. 6 meeting are being taken by Terri Grover of Fred P. Saunders Co. in Bridgton, 647-3331. Please phone no later than Friday, Dec. 3, to reserve.

Western Maine Management Club, started in 1961, is made up of business people in Western Maine who meet on the first Monday of each month to discuss issues and ideas timely to today's business climate. New members are always welcome. Membership information can be obtained from John Pietroski at National Wood Products in Oxford, 539-4463.

NEW SANCTUARY DEDICATED—Rev. Neal Clark, District Superintendent of New England churches speaks at Sunday's dedication of the Bethel Alliance Church's new sanctuary. The building that former housed the sanctuary will be converted to a Christian education youth building, according to Bethel Alliance minister Nathan Seckinger.

AUTO ROW • GORHAM, NH

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Lamb

Michelle Peterson and Joseph Lamb, Ph.D., of Lancaster, Ohio were married on Oct. 2, 1993 at the Royal River Cannery Restaurant in Yarmouth. The ceremony was performed outside on the deck over the ocean by the groom's sister Judith McLaughlin. The attendants were Wendy Sue Lamb and Kenneth Lamb, sister and brother of the groom. Also present to witness the ceremony were the bride's parents, Mary and Orlyn Peterson of Lawrence, Kan.; the groom's parents, Newton and Joyce Lamb of West Paris; Michael McLaughlin of West Paris; Myrna Lamb of Santa Fe, N.M.; Margaret Lamb and John Beane of Palermo, Paula Lamb and Kennie of Auburn; and nieces Nina, Kyra and Kelly McLaughlin of U.S.M. with friends.

The bride wore a winter white suit and carried a bouquet of native flowers. The wedding cake and tables were decorated with native flowers. A luncheon was held at the restaurant followed by the cutting of the cake and the opening of the gifts.

The bride graduated from the University of Kansas in 1991 with a degree in art history and in May, 1993, graduated from the University of Kansas School of Nursing in Kansas City, Kan. She is now working at the Arthur B. James Cancer Hospital and Research Institute at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

The groom graduated from the University of Maine at Gorham and taught in Portland. He received his master's degree in art history from Arizona State in Tempe, Ariz. In 1987 he received his Ph.D. in art history from the University of California at Santa Barbara. He has taught at the University of Alaska in Anchorage, the University of Kansas in Lawrence, Kan., and is currently teaching at the University of Ohio in Athens.

They are at home in Lancaster, Ohio.

THOUGHTS FROM THE Pastor's Study

The Bethel Area Clergy Association, with the help of pastors of surrounding churches, brings you these meditations. Not based on any set theme, they will be individual for each pastor. It is hoped you will find in these words comfort and hope for your daily life.

"Now there were certain Greeks among those who had come to worship at the feast. Then they came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida of Galilee, and asked him, saying 'Sir, we wish to see Jesus.'" (John 12:20-21)

A missionary, newly arrived in an African country, had been invited to preach at a local church. As he and the host pastor were driving the rutted dirt road, the missionary noticed that they were passing great crowds of young people along the way. His curiosity aroused, he asked the pastor where all the young people were headed, only to be told that they were on their way to their church's bi-annual District Youth Rally. They would probably number in the thousands before the day was through, and some had walked as far as 30 kilometers (18 miles). They had done so in Sunday dress, and with no lunch provided.

They parked beside a field, went up a path, climbed under some barbed wire, and saw the church. It stood alone: corrugated tin propped up by some posts. It had rough wooden boards for pews and green grassy fields for walls. Due to the lack of instruments, the people sang a cappella, but to the ears of the missionary the music sounded as the choirs of angels.

As the missionary watched, he saw a young girl crawling up the path, her thin, useless legs splayed out behind her. She pulled herself under the barbed wire, dragging her body on calloused hands and knees. Finally wheeling herself around to sit on the grass. How far had she come? How long had her journey taken? What pain had she endured in order to make the trip? How many stares of pity from those she passed by?

In fact, what could have drawn any of these young people to make such a personal sacrifice? Was it just to mingle with their fellow teens, to make new friends, perhaps to experience the excitement of a mass worship service? I'm sure that all of these were true, but I wonder if, at bottom, like the Greeks of old, they were saying, "Sir, we wish to see Jesus."

At this time of year, it is easy to lose sight of the true meaning of the season. Our tempers get short, our time becomes expensive, our gifts bear no resemblance to the gift that was given so very long ago, on that night of nights. We fail to take the time to stop and consider that God Himself, the Creator of the universe, gave us His own Son as a child to save us out of our sins, to make the way by which mankind may once again enter into a personal relationship with Him. We neglect the services of our local church because we allow the hustle and bustle of the season. We even allow our own families and friends to prevent us from attending, when one of the greatest gifts that we could give them would be a closer knowledge of the Savior.
